About ILG MUN

ILG MUN IV is a student-led Model United Nations conference hosted by International Learning Group School in Prishtina.

About ILG School

ILG School is a non-profit IB Continuum School in Pristina, Kosovo, offering high-quality, inquiry-based education in English to students from over 40 countries. We deliver the IB Primary Years, Middle Years, and Diploma Programmes.

Our mission is to develop each student’s full potential so they can positively impact the world.

Founded by parents and educators, ILG promotes independent, happy learners who “love to learn.” The school is accredited by Cognia, licensed by the Kosovo Ministry of Education, and part of several international education associations.

About 85% of students are international, supported through English Language Acquisition and additional language options including Albanian, French, and German. Learning is personalized using MAP® Growth and DRA assessments.

The campus includes modern facilities such as a library, gyms, cafeteria, science lab, arts rooms, and sports areas.

Parents are actively involved in governance and school life, making ILG a collaborative and inclusive community.

About ILG MUN

Model United Nations (MUN) is an educational simulation of the United Nations where students take on the roles of diplomats representing different countries. Participants debate global issues, develop solutions, and build skills in public speaking, negotiation, research, and critical thinking.

ILG Model United Nations (ILG MUN) is a student-led club founded in 2022 at ILG School. Since its creation, it has grown into an active international program with strong participation and recognition.

ILG MUN students have attended conferences around the world, including DSTMUN, ACTMUN, Yale Model United Nations, Harvard Model Congress Europe, and PHSMUN. Members have earned multiple awards such as Best Delegate and Honorable Mention, and have also served as Assistant Directors at major conferences including Yale MUN Europe.

ILG MUN has hosted three conferences so far, and the upcoming one will be its fourth, continuing its focus on diplomacy, leadership, and global engagement.

United Nations Human Rights Council

JUNIOR GRADES 6-8

Chair: Yana Blagoeva Petrova

My name is Yana Petrova, and I am a 12th grader at ILG School. My first experience with MUN began when I joined my new school, where I started as a nervous delegate who knew almost nothing about debating or conference procedures. Over time, I became more interested in global issues, public speaking, and the unique atmosphere MUN creates.

Since then, I have participated in international conferences such as Harvard Model United Nations, where I received Best Delegate, and Yale Model United Nations, where I served as an Assistant Director. I have also had the opportunity to chair the junior division of my school’s after-school MUN club.

Outside of MUN, I enjoy traveling, watching movies, trying new things, and spending time with friends and family. My goal for this conference is to create an environment where everyone feels confident sharing their ideas and learning from one another.

About UNHRC

The United Nations Human Rights Council is the main UN body dedicated to the promotion and protection of human rights around the world. In this committee, delegates examine situations where fundamental rights are threatened, discuss the responsibilities of states and international actors, and work toward practical recommendations that protect vulnerable communities.

UNHRC debates often require delegates to balance legal principles, humanitarian needs, political realities, and long-term prevention. Delegates are expected to think carefully about accountability, access to aid, protection of civilians, education, discrimination, and the role of international monitoring.

Because this is the junior committee, UNHRC is designed to help delegates build confidence with research, speeches, moderated debate, and resolution writing while still engaging with serious global issues in a structured and supportive setting.

Topics

- 1. Protecting Children in Armed Conflict Zones
- 2. Protecting the Rights and Safety of Refugees Around the World

BEGINNER

Chair: Rea Binaku

My name is Rea Binaku, and I feel proud to be serving as your chair during this conference! MUN has been one of my top passions, with me participating in many conferences, including HMCE, YMUNE, DSTMUN, and ACTMUN. I have received numerous awards, one of which was an honorable mention at HMCE, along with many Best Delegate awards throughout my MUN journey.

Outside of MUN, I enjoy travelling, connecting with new friends, swimming, playing volleyball, and more, all of which help me experience and learn about different cultures around the world.

As your chair, my vision is to provide all delegates with a professional, fun, and inclusive environment that encourages everyone to participate. Ultimately, I want this committee to challenge you all and help you develop critical thinking, cooperation, and public speaking skills.

I hope you all have a great time! I look forward to seeing you all!

About ECOSOC

The United Nations Economic and Social Council focuses on the economic, social, humanitarian, and development work of the United Nations. It connects issues such as poverty, inequality, education, labor, health, migration, development, and international cooperation, making it one of the broadest committees in Model United Nations.

In ECOSOC, delegates are asked to look beyond immediate political conflict and consider the systems that shape people’s lives. Strong debate in this committee often includes funding mechanisms, international partnerships, sustainable development, legal cooperation, and support for communities affected by crises.

As a beginner committee, ECOSOC gives delegates a clear introduction to formal debate while still challenging them to think about realistic, cooperative solutions that different countries could support.

Topics

- 1. Combating Human Trafficking Networks and Protecting Vulnerable Populations
- 2. Tackling Child Labor and Exploitation in Global Supply Chains

INTERMEDIATE

Chair: Elif Buse Güven

Hi everyone! My name is Elif Buse Güven, and I am a Grade 11 DP1 student at ILG School.

I started my MUN journey a little over a year ago, initially to improve my public speaking skills. Since then, I have had the opportunity to attend several conferences across Europe and Asia, which have truly deepened my passion for MUN. This conference marks my first experience as a Chair, and I could not be more excited to serve as your Chair for the UNODC committee!

Outside of MUN, I am passionate about arts, especially pottery, where I am a teacher. I am also deeply interested in psychology, jewelry designing and collecting Pokémon cards.

As your Chair, I aim to push each of you to step outside your comfort zones and refine your public speaking and debating abilities.

I can't wait to meet you all and make this an amazing experience together!

About UNODC

The United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime works on issues connected to organized crime, justice, corruption, drugs, terrorism, cybercrime, and the rule of law. In Model United Nations, UNODC debates often focus on problems that cross borders and cannot be solved by one country alone.

Delegates in UNODC must think about prevention, law enforcement cooperation, technology, education, legal reform, human rights, and international accountability. The committee rewards solutions that are specific and realistic, especially when they explain how states can share information, build capacity, and protect affected populations.

As an intermediate committee, UNODC expects delegates to connect security questions with legal and social consequences, making it a strong space for delegates who want a deeper and more technical debate.

Chair: Diego Muttoni

My name is Diego Muttoni and I am in DP1 (11th grade) at ILG School in Pristina, Kosovo.

I started my MUN journey 5 years ago and have participated in more than 12 conferences during that time, where I gained valuable experience, built lasting friendships, and received several awards that further strengthened my passion for MUN. Throughout my journey, I have also had the opportunity to serve as a Chair, Assistant Director, and Secretary-General, which allowed me to develop my leadership and organisational skills.

I am honoured to be one of the Chairs for the UNSC committee. I am very excited to share this experience with you and to help create a committee where everyone's opinions are heard and valued.

Hope to see you all in November!

Chair: Erika Duraku

Hi everyone! My name is Erika Duraku, and I am an 11th grader at ILG School. I am so excited to be one of your chairs for the UNSC Committee.

My MUN experience started in 2023, and since then, I have had the chance to participate in several conferences and experience MUN from different roles, including as a delegate, chair, assistant director, and now as Deputy Secretary-General for this conference. Each experience has helped me become more confident, open-minded, and aware of how important collaboration and respectful debate are.

Outside of MUN, I enjoy watching sci-fi films and reading classics, as well as other fiction books. As your chair, I hope to help create a committee where everyone feels prepared, respected, and encouraged to participate. I will work hard to make this an engaging and unforgettable experience for all of you.

I can't wait to meet you all in November!

About UNSC

The United Nations Security Council is responsible for maintaining international peace and security. It is one of the most powerful UN bodies, dealing with armed conflict, threats to sovereignty, peacekeeping, sanctions, ceasefires, and urgent crises that may affect regional or global stability.

In UNSC, delegates must respond to complex security problems under pressure. Debate requires strong knowledge of international relations, alliances, state interests, military and economic consequences, and the limits of diplomacy. Unlike many other committees, UNSC resolutions often focus on immediate action and crisis management.

As the advanced committee, UNSC is designed for delegates who are ready for fast-paced debate, detailed policy arguments, and high-level negotiation. Delegates should be prepared to defend national interests while still working toward solutions that can realistically protect peace and security.
